

HILL BILLY

Terrain power trolley £289

HILL BILLY SAYS: The new Terrain boasts a powerful 200-watt motor and a 26Ah battery designed to cope with even the hilliest golfing country. The grip is made from a comfortable soft touch material and will be equally usable by both left- and right-handers, while the bag lock system promises to reduce unwanted twisting and rotation, whatever your bag of choice. There is also a simple-to-operate function to send your trolley three set distances. Available in either black or silver.

Hill Billy has succeeded in upping the presentation and apparent build quality of its trolleys without upping the price tag significantly. It's easy to assemble, and folds to a size that should fit into even a fairly small car boot. One or two neat little touches make this a good value option, which to me looks better in this "piano black" finish than the alternative "silver sparkle".
